SUBJECT: Foreign Service Academy

The President has established a panel headed by Dr. James Perkins, Vice president of the Carnegie Foundation, to study the feasibility of creating a Foreign Service Academy--the State Department equivalent of a National War College. A senior government panel composed of former Ambassador Merchant, Deputy Secretary of Defense Gilpatric, myself and others have been established to review this proposal. We are currently studying certain papers which have been prepared by State and the Bureau of the Budget and will be having meetings toward the end of September.

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise you of this activity and urge you to submit any suggestions or proposals to me at your earliest convenience.
